RULES

Dear Reader,

I would like you to take a moment of your time and ponder over what am about to tell you. When a child is born, rules are given as to how the child should be cared for or brought up. In your childhood your parents try to set out ground rules for you. Some may be good, others not, some of those rules will go a long way towards shaping your character.

When you start schooling there are rules for you to follow. When you start working there are also rules for you to follow. Within every nation there are rules that must be abided by.

Everyone from the president or prime minister to the ordinary man or woman on the street is required to follow these rules.

Whether you take a bus or train or you use your own car to travel, you need to follow the rules that are put in place. In every human society there are rules. Rules are there for us to be well governed. Now you need to ask yourself has God got rules? This is not about whether you believe in God or not. Once we die we leave those rules behind but God's rules continue. Whether you believe in afterlife or not those rules will follow you to the grave and will continue from there.

Has God got rules? YES he has. If yes, what are they? To draw your attention to the major rules. Jesus has to be Lord of your life. You need to relate with God through Jesus of Nazareth, you must know him and be able to hear his voice, you must also follow him and obey him. We live in a time where people care less, but God wants you to care about yourself. Since you don't have power over tomorrow think about it and do something.

As you work towards abiding by earthly rules which is good, don't forget you are not a permanent member of this earth. So think about where you are going when you pass away. Has your name been registered in God's book of life. The sentence I go to church is not enough. You should be able to hear his voice and obey him. For things to go well with you even to the end of life, you must hear him, obey and relate. You can keep to your church or organisation, but find a place that will help you to know him and be able to relate and obey him.
